Veterinary Ventures, Inc. Drinkwell® 360 Pet Fountain Wins Pet Product News International 2009 Editor's Choice Award

(Reno, NV) – Sean Rowe, Managing Director and Principal of Veterinary Ventures, Inc. (VVI) is thrilled to announce that the company's newest fountain, the Drinkwell® 360 Pet Fountain, has won the prestigious 2009 Editor's Choice Awards by Pet Product News International magazine.

Products were evaluated and selected based on innovation, function or design, or a combination of all three elements. Hundreds of pet products were submitted by manufacturers, but only 31 products made the cut.

“We are honored to earn positive recognition for the Drinkwell® 360, especially from one of the industry's top trade publications,” said VVI's Managing Director and Principal Sean Rowe. “We are committed to developing products that are convenient for pet owners and contribute to the well being and health of our pets.”

The Drinkwell® 360 Pet Fountain features up to five, patented free-falling water streams all at once and was designed with the multiple pet household in mind. Owners have the ability to customize their fountain with the five interchangeable spout rings included with each fountain. Pets no longer have to wait their turn for a quick lap of water; they now can each have their own fresh flowing stream of water from any angle. Using the same filtration technology as the other Drinkwell® Fountains, the Drinkwell®

360 continually circulates the water which helps inhibit bacteria growth and removes odors, keeping water tasting fresh and appealing to pets.
